

POSING NEW POSSIBILITIES:

Problem Posing through Young Adult Literature

By Beth Warden

Tuesday, October 26, at 2 pm in STV 401

“

Problem posing is an important practice that is often underemphasized in the high school classroom. This presentation focuses on providing a framework to promote problem posing through the use of young adult literature, which can provide a rich context for students to develop their problem posing skills.

”

